EUROBASE READY-MADE BOILIES

Quality at an affordable price. We know that many carp anglers were waiting for SBS to come out with a more affordable product. The question of many people is, how can the price be so low without making the quality lower? The answer is simple: experimentation, product development, and continual testing. It is true that the most expensive additives that are often used by SBS are missing from the ingredients, but we have managed to develop a product that is easily digestible for carp and can successfully be used on longer sessions. It is important to note that the flavours are the same in these baits as the ones used in the more expensive products. We recommend this bait be used away from competitive fishing and in situations when it is reasonable to feed a larger quantity. This bait fits the big waters, the well-stocked reservoirs, the rivers, and all other kinds of water. If you go on a longer session or to big natural water, then take EuroBase Ready-Made boilies!

PVA BAG PELLET MIX

The tactic of creating precise and concentrated areas of bait is one of the key factors to induce carp to pick up our hookbait. By using only a small quantity of the PVA Bag Pellet Mix, we can either use this tactic on its own to create a tiny and effective patch for shy feeding fish, or as a small concentrated area of bait within a larger spread of bait. The PVA Bag Pellet Mix made of small, 2-3 mm pellets, with high protein content. The one, under the name, 'Fishmeal' is without any additional flavour, but it can be very attractive for Carp because of the extra fish oil content. Under the name M1, we added the well-known, spicy flavour, and also some original Robin Red, that is why it is a version, that all anglers can use any time of the year without a risk. Scopex and Strawberry PVA Bag Pellet Mixes are the sweet members of the team, they can be the best choice if we are trying to catch Carp during the cooler months of the year. You can fill the PVA mesh with these dry pellets (as they are in the package), but if you wish to offer a bit of a softer texture, soak every 100 g with 5 ml of any kind of liquid.

COMPETITION MONOFILAMENT LINE

SBS Competiton main lines have been developed and tested by SBS Team members at carp angling competitions for two years. The main goal was to create a smooth and high abrasion-resistant line, which helps to reach long casts, and is also able to retain all of its amazing attributes after 40-50 casts a day. The fluoro-yellow colour is a great choice during the night hours, because with the light of a head lamp you can see the line easily.
